On account of the overwhelming Democratic majority in Jersey County it has been reported that only a partial ticket will be put in the field. This may be necessary on account of the refusal of prominent Republicans to permit their names to be placed on the ticket.

One of the first Lems of business that will come before the convention on Monday will be a vote on the question of a whole or partial ticket, and several of the party leaders have been advocating the concentration of the party strength on one or two nominations rather than the entire list, thereby hoplus to defeat some of the weaker Democratic nominees.
